

FRONTING

Fronting is a practical language strategy that is important for good communication. Understanding fronting meaning and its different forms can help us perfect the skill of emphasising particular parts of a phrase, improving the impact and clarity of our messages.

Read more

Q1: Which of the following is an example of subject fronting?

- A: The car drove swiftly down the highway.
 - B: Safely, the child crossed the busy street.
 - C: In the park, the children played joyfully.
 - D: Sheila, she won the race.
-

Q2: Which of the following sentences demonstrates object fronting?

- A: The dog chased the squirrel up the tree.
 - B: I gave a book to my friend.
 - C: The cake, it was eaten by the guests.
 - D: He built a sandcastle on the beach.
-

Q3: Which of the following is an example of adverbial fronting?

- A: She quickly finished her homework.
 - B: They often go for a walk in the evening.
 - C: During the storm, the power went out.
 - D: Cautiously, he approached the wild animal.
-

Q4: What is fronting according to English grammar?

- A: Replacing nouns with pronouns for clarity
 - B: Shortening the sentence to create impact
 - C: Using synonyms to repeat the same idea
 - D: The alteration of word order within a sentence for emphasis
-

Q5: How can fronting enhance the clarity of a message?

- A: By adding unnecessary details to the sentence
 - B: By repeating the same idea using different words
 - C: By shortening the sentence structure
 - D: By drawing attention to particular elements
-

Q6: What is subject fronting?

- A: Moving the subject of a sentence to the front, before the verb or verb phrase.
 - B: Changing the order of adjectives in a sentence.
 - C: Replacing one noun with another within a sentence.
 - D: Moving the object of a sentence to the front, before the subject or verb phrase.
-

Q7: What is object fronting?

- A: Adding an extra word to a sentence for emphasis.
 - B: Moving the object of a sentence to the front, preceding the subject or verb phrase.
 - C: Changing the tense of a verb within a sentence.
 - D: Moving the subject of a sentence to the front, before the verb or verb phrase.
-

Q8: Adverbial fronting involves moving what to the front of a sentence?

- A: A preposition
 - B: An adverb or an adverbial phrase
 - C: A noun
 - D: A verb
-

Q9: What is emphasized by complement fronting?

- A: The object of the verb
 - B: The complement and its relationship to the subject or verb
 - C: The subject of the sentence
 - D: The adverb of the sentence
-

Q10: What is the purpose of emphatic fronting?

- A: To connect the clauses in a sentence
 - B: To add emphasis to a specific element within a sentence
 - C: To express contrast
 - D: To form comparisons
-

Answers

Q1: D - Sheila, she won the race.

Q2: C - The cake, it was eaten by the guests.

Q3: C - During the storm, the power went out.

Q4: D - The alteration of word order within a sentence for emphasis

Q5: D - By drawing attention to particular elements

Q6: D - Moving the object of a sentence to the front, before the subject or verb phrase.

Q7: B - Moving the object of a sentence to the front, preceding the subject or verb phrase.

Q8: B - An adverb or an adverbial phrase

Q9: B - The complement and its relationship to the subject or verb

Q10: B - To add emphasis to a specific element within a sentence