

PERIOD FULL STOP

Period full stop is a type of punctuation mark used in the English language which is used to mark the ending of a sentence. The word period is used in British English while Full Stop is used in American English. The period or full stop is also known as a full point.

Read more

Q1: Which of the following is an example of correct period placement?

- A: Why is this colored in blue.
 - B: This is a powder blue color.
 - C: Do you need a blue color.
 - D: Is this a blue color.
-

Q2: Which of the following sentences does NOT require a period?

- A: Why is it important to use period.
 - B: This is used for punctuation marks.
 - C: It is a red textured accessory.
 - D: You can use red-colored accessories.
-

Q3: Which of the following sentences uses the period correctly?

- A: My dog loves to eat vanilla-flavored dog food.
 - B: Why will you buy pink bright colors for a white-themed party.
 - C: Why do you need this pen.
 - D: Do you like cricketers.
-

Q4: Can you use a period mark after a non-declarative sentence?

- A: Yes
 - B: No
-

Q5: Sentence 'I'm going to Melbourne' will end with which punctuation mark?

- A: Question mark
 - B: Exclamation mark
 - C: Semicolon
 - D: Period
-

Q6: Is Period or Full Stop the Same?

A: Yes

B: No

Q7: Do abbreviations use a Period?

A: Yes

B: No

Q8: 'MBA.' is the period used in this abbreviation correct?

A: True

B: False

Q9: 'Dr.' is the period used in this abbreviation correct?

A: True

B: False

Q10: Which of the following questions can use a period?

A: Why is this Tv not working

B: Why is your dog pink colored

C: Is it how books are made

D: If you do not read it, you will regret (INDIRECT QUESTION)

Answers

Q1: B - This is a powder blue color.

Q2: A - Why is it important to use period.

Q3: A - My dog loves to eat vanilla-flavored dog food.

Q4: B - No

Q5: D - Period

Q6: A - Yes

Q7: A - Yes

Q8: B - False

Q9: A - True

Q10: D - If you do not read it, you will regret (INDIRECT QUESTION)