

POSSESSIVE PRONOUN

Possessive pronouns are essential in English grammar because they allow us to express ownership and form connections between individuals and objects. You may improve your English fluency and effectively show ownership in your sentences by learning the meaning and use of possessive pronoun.

Read more

Q1: Which of the following is a possessive pronoun for a plural noun?

- A: his
 - B: your
 - C: theirs
 - D: mine
-

Q2: What is the possessive pronoun for the noun 'he'?

- A: my
 - B: your
 - C: his
 - D: hers
-

Q3: Which possessive pronoun agrees with a plural noun?

- A: My
 - B: your
 - C: our
 - D: theirs
-

Q4: What is the purpose of possessive pronouns in English grammar?

- A: To add clarity and conciseness to expressions.
 - B: To enhance fluency in the English language.
 - C: To show ownership and establish relationships between people and objects.
 - D: To eliminate repetitive noun usage in sentences.
-

Q5: Which of the following is an example of a possessive pronoun?

- A: "The"
 - B: "This"
 - C: "A"
 - D: "His"
-

Q6: What do possessive pronouns specifically indicate?

- A: Ownership or possession
 - B: Ownership and affiliation
 - C: Association and belonging
 - D: Connections and affinity
-

Q7: What is the main difference between possessive pronouns and possessive adjectives?

- A: Possessive pronouns entirely replace the noun, while possessive adjectives modify the noun to indicate possession.
 - B: Possessive pronouns modify the noun, while possessive adjectives entirely replace the noun.
 - C: Possessive pronouns are only used in written English, while possessive adjectives are used in spoken English.
 - D: Possessive pronouns and adjectives are the same type of pronouns used differently.
-

Q8: Which sentence contains a possessive pronoun?

- A: "It is my jacket."
 - B: "The red bicycle is my."
 - C: "The jacket is mine."
 - D: "That beautiful house belongs to us."
-

Q9: What do possessive nouns modify?

- A: Verbs to indicate ownership.
 - B: Other nouns to indicate ownership.
 - C: Pronouns to indicate ownership.
 - D: Adjectives to indicate ownership.
-

Q10: How do possessive pronouns streamline communication?

- A: By eliminating the need to mention the noun that is being possessed repeatedly.
 - B: By establishing stronger connections between nouns.
 - C: By adding clarity and conciseness to expressions.
 - D: By providing synonyms for nouns.
-

Answers

Q1: C - theirs

Q2: C - his

Q3: D - theirs

Q4: C - To show ownership and establish relationships between people and objects.

Q5: D - "His"

Q6: A - Ownership or possession

Q7: A - Possessive pronouns entirely replace the noun, while possessive adjectives modify the noun to indicate possession.

Q8: C - "The jacket is mine."

Q9: B - Other nouns to indicate ownership.

Q10: A - By eliminating the need to mention the noun that is being possessed repeatedly.